Compose®

OPEN TO CHANGE

A panel-based system in an open plan supports the needs of your business and people. With so many options and materials, the Compose system is the logical choice for creating cohesive, flexible environments that work for everyone.

Intentionally integrates. Easily updates. Reconfigures again and again. Compose—the workplace you envision.

THE BACKBONE OF INTEGRATED SPACES

As you consider the potential for your overall spaces, think of Compose as the backbone. It's part of the foundation for a productive, holistic environment that integrates aesthetically and physically with other Haworth products.

Compose is part of our exclusive Integrated Palette™— a platform of products with shared design logics. From access floors, to data systems, to technology, to lighting and furniture components, Integrated Palette products intentionally work better together, and logically respond to change.

The Integrated Palette gives you confidence that the Haworth products you choose today will fully adapt and update to support future business and people needs. Increase your return on investment, support people at work, and be open to possibilities with Haworth as your single source for inspiring spaces.

Bring in Beside® storage to define spaces, balancing areas for privacy with visual connectedness and opportunities for collaboration.

Create a touchdown spot with a Workware™ screen-sharing solution.

Compose anchors this productive and adaptable space.

Hang Belong™ work tools to support personal work needs.

Add Planes® height-adjustable tables to help people feel and perform their best.

FLEXIBILITY TO CHANGE, ADAPT, AND EVOLVE

Space must easily adapt to support evolving workstyles and business functions. Compose is a sound investment with flexibility to support varying degrees of privacy, personal storage, and personalization. From traditional applications to more open workstations, Compose offers options for the entire building and workforce. When it's time to change up spaces, you don't have to start over or buy all new products.

Value-driven design

Recent enhancements provide a greater range of design applications. Advanced engineering gives you the assurance that Compose will endure. Maintain quality standards and at the same time increase your options for workspaces. Compose meets the criteria for value-driven decision makers who anticipate change and embrace new ways to work.

MAXIMIZE POTENTIAL MOVING FORWARD

Count on Compose to create home bases and shared spaces that morph by department, function, or floor, and over time. When you're ready to update, Compose is too, ensuring you get the most out of your real estate and employee engagement for years to come.

DENSIFICATION CONTINUES

Research shows companies are allocating less office space per employee. At the same time, the trend is to shift from individual to collaborative spaces to support teamwork and mobile workers. Compose is deliberately scaled to support people in every type of footprint.

A NEW LANDSCAPE FOR WORK

Your organization's most valuable asset is your people. Attract, retain, and engage talent by understanding what drives them: People do their best work in spaces that speak to who they are and what they do. Compose opens up the possibilities to increase productivity, communication, and morale. It's a forward-thinking system that supports human nature and the inherent ways people like to work.

Lower-height panels facilitate collaboration and increase access to natural light to support well-being.

Encourage communication by opening up sight lines to shared spaces.

Give coworkers individual space with convenient access to each other.

Pair Compose with many types of storage for shared areas and individual workstations.

Maintain personal space and privacy while seated without feeling totally closed off.

Low-gloss, double-cut veneers showcase a sophisticated vertical grain to elevate status.
